If your dining room is right at the front of the home, maybe surrounded by a wrap-around porch, will you be inspired to have more dinner parties? If the breakfast nook is in a bay with one or two doors that open to the outside, will you become more familiar with morning breezes? And if your home is filled with things like a main-floor master bedroom and an upstairs hallway overlooking a two-story great room, will you smile more often as you go about your day?

- 1 Born to entertain – the dining room isn't the only feature that makes this a wonderful party home. There's also a central kitchen, a two-story great room in the Victorian elevation, and a great big wrap-around porch.
- 2 Born to work – there is also an option to make the dining room a study.
- 3 Seven windows turn the staircase into one of the most beautiful places in the whole house.
- 4 This bonus room lets the kids have fun upstairs while the adults sit around and yack downstairs. Or, turn the bonus room into a 4th bedroom with its own bath.
- 5 The full basement option adds a huge amount of space to the Wheatland House.
